

Environmental Defense Fund
Summer 2008

Interning at Environmental Defense Fund was amazing. My supervisor made sure that I worked on projects that I was interested in and I never had to do any office or secretarial work. Most of the projects I worked on were concerned with the California Air Resources Board's Draft Climate Change Scoping Plan; however, I also had the opportunity to work on advocacy for legislation. The office atmosphere was great: it was a relatively small office with only about 8 other people working. It was pretty casual as well, except for days when we had meetings with outside entities. Overall, I would highly recommend this internship for anyone interested in environmental public policy and/or environmental advocacy.
